TREE TRANSPLANTATION

Trees plays an important role in our life, they give us oxygen, store carbon, stabilise the soil and give shelter to many wildlife species. Now a days we're cutting the trees for infrastructure development. You can now develop the infrastructure without sacrificing the green cover. For this we have a solution called 'Tree Transplantation'. Every grown tree is unique and requires a detailed plan for transplanting. Doctor Trees works with our clients and their designers to understand their vision to implement the best possible solution for the transplantation of grown trees. For this we have well experienced team led by our directors who have 7+ years of experience in tree transplantation and executed the projects in the national level.
